

The Crumble Lady

About The Book

Britain's Got Talent legend Lorraine Bowen has written a children's book, The Crumble Lady, based on the song that first shot her to fame on the popular ITV talent show.

Lorraine's first venture into children's fiction is a selection box of delicious and zany adventures about her fictional alter-ego, the Crumble Lady. Added to this, the book also features five scrumalicious crumble recipes – perfect for baking!

Reminiscent of Jeremy Strong and the Horrid Henry series (with artwork by Basil M Waite) The Crumble Lady features a troupe of colourful characters living on her “not normally very normal” street in Brighton, from the Crumble Lady herself to her neighbours: policeman Constable Seaweed; Vegetable Sue, the friendly local greengrocer; Gellina Gelato, the Crumble Lady's good friend and fellow dessert-lover; Mr Staccato, who runs the village choir; Pearl Barley, and Mrs Marge.

About The Author

The Crumble Lady is yet another string to Lorraine's bow in her mission to bring a little sunshine into the world. Over the years Lorraine has been touring with her own variety roadshow, pouring positivity wherever she can. Best known across the globe for her Golden Buzzer performance on the television reality show Britain's Got Talent (which has now reached over 9 million views on YouTube), Lorraine has been performing all over the UK for over a decade with live shows such as Lorraine Bowen's Vital Organs, Lorraine Bowen's Polyester Fiesta and most recently Be Original, described as “an interactive musical ideasfest for 8-11 year olds” and funded by Arts Council England
