KEEPING CLEAR OF PARADISE STREET (8-12)

In the 1950s there was no Internet, no iPhones, no games consoles, no colour TV. Sounds grim?

Actually there was good stuff too. What kind of stuff? Well how about... secret tunnels... flea circuses... Saturday morning cinema... cows in the back garden?

Cows in the back garden!? Yep. The past was a strange place.

And Brian Moses was there. Of course, he wasn't so 'old' back then. He was around your age. Old enough to be your friend! Read stories of killer crabs, teachers armed with baseball bats, and grenades that washed up on the beach.

THE NORRIS GIRLS (8-15)

Dad is away in a dangerous place, but life must go on for the Norris girls. Beth dreams of being in the school musical, especially when super cool Josh gets the lead part. Georgy trains every day, trying to win a place in the Inter-Counties Athletics Championships, but first she has to beat her arch-rival, Layla. And Katie wants an animal to look after – a dog or cat or a rabbit would do, but if she could choose one thing in the whole world it would be a pony.

Filled with tears and laughter, heartache and longing, this is Little Women for the twenty-first century.

“The Norris Girls is a great read and a total page-turner.” – Jacqueline Wilson

SOMETHING I SHOULD KNOW (8-15)

Thirteen-year-old Olivia wants to know the truth. She doesn't want to go through her whole life wondering who her dad is and what it would be like to meet him. But her mum is so secretive about the whole thing: all she will say is that it's complicated and Olivia is too young to understand.

So, when Olivia's cousin Charlie suggests they take matters into their own hands and contact reality TV show Find Your Family, where they reunite family members who've lost touch, she knows this could be her only chance.

Together, the two girls fill in the online application form – and it all looks so easy! They are invited to appear on the show and travel to Greece to meet Alexandros Papadopoulos, her mum's ex and Olivia's dad. But all is not as it seems. Someone is hiding the truth about Olivia's real father. Who is he? Where is he? And how will he feel when he discovers the daughter he never knew he had?
